Paddock Lake Stews Over Tax Bill Blooper

PADDOCK LAKE, Wis.—Taxpayers of the Village of Paddock Lake will get a break on the tax bills coming up—but village officials are up to their ears in a boiling financial stew.

The village borrowed $10,000 in September, to be repaid before August 1 next year and financed by an irrepealable tax on village residents. The first bite was due to come in the bills being prepared to go out in December.

However, this hitch developed—the Village Board learned at its last meeting that Assessor Earl Torre has left for his winter vacation, and that his books had not been set up for the collection.

Frieda Webb, village clerk, said that as a result, the village will not be able to levy the tax for the $10,000 which was scheduled to be collectible in January.

Mrs. Webb said the village attorney suggested that tax monies coming from Salem might help cover the amount needed.

The board instructed Mrs. Webb to write a letter to Torre asking him whether he will be able to discharge his duties as assessor by May 1, when an assessment should be made. Meanwhile, the village is wondering what to do next.

TORRE'S ABSENCE created another problem for the village. Torre had been named permanent building inspector. Now the village is looking for another building inspector, and they have announced that candidates for the job will be screened at a special meeting Nov. 16 at 8 p.m. in Salem Central high school.

THE BOARD has deferred consideration of the appointment of a village chief of police.

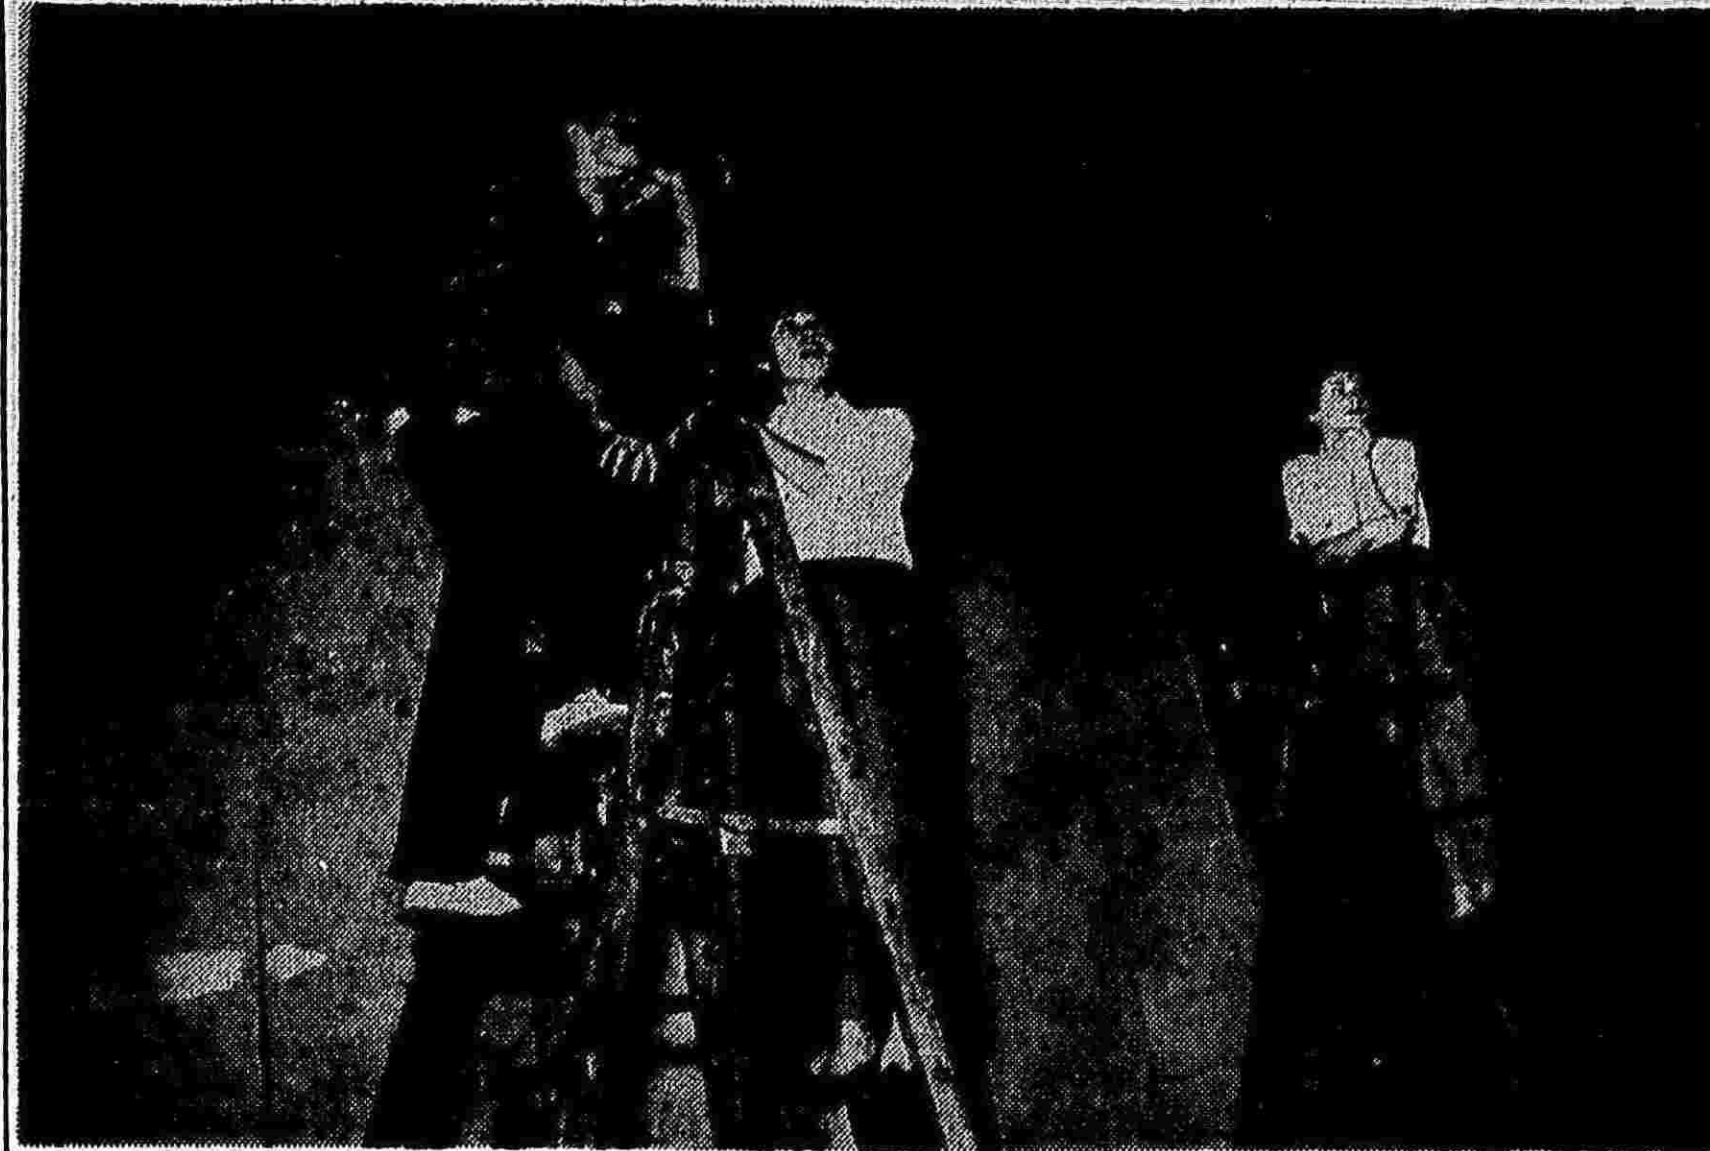

Their thinking on this matter was revised after they found that once a chief is appointed, the village would become a secondary call on the priority sheet of the sheriff's office.

If two calls were received at the same time for instance, the area which did not have a police chief would receive first preference. The appointment would also cut the number of deputies patrolling the area, the board learned.

A PROPOSED contract for installation of street lights on Highway 50 was turned back to committee for further study. It was found that the bill for lighting would amount to $1,000 a year under the new contract.

The proposed sewerage need survey was also turned over to the sewer, light and water committee until the group meets in Chicago with the federal Home and Housing Finance Committee.

A representative of the state health department was to meet with the sewer committee to inspect property that has been flooded. The inspection was prompted by complaints of residents.

High School Thespians Promise Unusual Evening at Annual Play

Something different and unusual in drama is promised playgoers by members of the cast of "Our Town", a play by Thornton Wilder, to be presented by the junior class of Antioch Township High School tomorrow and Saturday evenings in the high school auditorium.

"Our Town," the only play written by Wilder, will have no props, no scenery and the usual accoutrements associated with the stage. Instead, cast members will set the mood and tone of each of the three acts by virtue of their abilities and interpretations.

Each scene will be described by a narrator who introduces and establishes the setting through monologue. This narrator represents the spirit of the community of Grover's Corners, a small community in New Hampshire, and locale of the play.

During the course of the play, actors deftly bring forth the basic philosophies of everyday living, of everyday things, and everyday people in the universal scheme of things. Basic relations of people to people come to the fore via the talents of the cast of 23.

In describing this unusual venture, J. M. Jessup, speech correctionist in Antioch grade schools and director of "Our Town," paid glowing tribute to the student actors and supporting personnel.

"Presenting a play of this type is a radical departure from the conventional," he said. "Here, the actor has no props, no assistance. He must, through his interpretation and talents, convey to the audience the depth of mood and setting. Members of the cast must transmit the idea of walking down the street where there is no street; climbing a stairway where there is no stair; conversing in a comfortable living room devoid of any furniture.

"Watching the enthusiasm with which members of the cast have approached and mastered their difficult roles has been rewarding. We promise our audience an interesting evening," Jessup said.

He revealed that students did all the research on costumes, make-up, atmosphere, making this truly an all-student effort.

Junior class members departed from tradition in this fall dramatic presentation by opening the cast to members of all classes of the high school.

Tickets are now on sale by members of the cast and will be available at the door. Curtain call for both Friday and Saturday presentations will be at 8 p.m.

Stratton Out, GOP Voters Split Ticket

In the midst of what appears to be a close presidential vote, at this writing and a near rout for Senate, House and state Democratic candidates, Lake County voters swept GOP aspirants into office by a 3-2 count. Lone exception in the county, was Gov. William Stratton, whose measure in the fight for the governorship was taken by Judge Otto Kerner in an approximate close vote of 55,558 to 56,818.

Incumbents returned to county offices are Stephanie Sulthm, circuit court clerk; Frank Nustra, recorder of deeds; Bruno W. Stanczak, state's attorney; Robert "Mickey" Babcox, coroner. Newly-elected as county auditor is John Darrow.

In a total vote of 14,458 from 183 precincts reporting, the count was: Sulthm (R) 61,901 over Joseph Ireland (D) 47,353; Nustra (R) 62,215 over Charles Lucas (D) 46,976; Stanczak (R) 62,852 over Donald Morrison (D) 47,140; Babcox (R) 62,152 over William Guyton (D) 47,725; Darrow (R) 62,708 over Philip A. Kaul (D) 46,391.

Have Child's Photo Taken Free for Kiddie Kalendar

Youngsters grow like weeds, don't they? That's why we think you'll cotton to our plan for preserving a memory of your youngster as he is today.

We're planning a photographic feature to be published soon in the Antioch News to be known as the Kiddie Kalendar, and we need your help. There is no charge, no strings attached. You don't even have to be a subscriber to the Antioch News (although we hope you are).

Here's how it works: We've invited United Studios of Elkhart, Ind., expert children's photographers, to take these special pictures for us. A special studio will be set up in Odd Fellows Hall in Antioch Nov. 11 from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

All you have to do is hustle over with the young 'uns and have their picture snapped. Doll 'em up and bring 'em in.

Parents are not obliged to purchase pictures. Selection of the pose to appear in the Antioch News will be made by the parents, at which time additional pictures may be ordered, if desired, from representatives of United Studios.

Remember the date: Nov. 11, Odd Fellows hall in Antioch 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. If a definite appointment is desired, call Shirley Cannon, 1498. We'll be looking for that picture.

The first rehearsal for the full choir will be held in the high school gymnasium at 2:30 p. m. this Sunday; a second rehearsal has been tentatively set for Sunday, Nov. 20, also at 2:30 p. m.

To keep the entire Thanksgiving weekend open for holiday activities and travel, no rehearsal has been scheduled for Nov. 27. However, an alternate date for the final rehearsal will be selected by those present for the first rehearsal.

All adults in the community interested in singing in the choir, are urged to attend the first rehearsal on Sunday.

ATHS Parents Participate in Education Week

Antioch Township High School completed in contribution to American Education Week, Nov. 6-12, in what Principal Albert L. Dittman has termed the most successful and beneficial in many years.

Building around the theme of "Strengthening Your Schools for the Sixties," Mr. Dittman invited a cross section of parents of students throughout the district to have lunch with key members of ATHS staff each day through the week.

During lunch, hosted by Mr. Dittman, assistant principal Warren Polley, and guidance coordinator William Hossick, parent-guests were invited to present questions, criticisms and observations on conduct of the public schools. This discussion period was continued during a tour of ATHS facilities.

According to Mr. Dittman, parents of high school students selected to attend the luncheon series, represented a cross-section of all levels, religions and backgrounds within the district. Their comments and queries will assist school officials in the task of administering the high school, he said.

ANTIOCH'S NEWEST retail establishment, the Ben Franklin Store, 414 Lake St., is now being readied for grand opening ceremonies next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-19.

Variety Store Schedules Grand Opening Next Week

The grand opening sale of Antioch's completely new Ben Franklin Store will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17-19, Chester Dubas, owner-operator announced this week.

Carefully purchased for opening festivities will be a number of selected products, Dubas disclosed. Gifts will be presented to all shoppers and their children. Some 1000 philodendron will be given to the first 1000 ladies; frisky goldfish and balloons will be given to children and other surprise gifts will be distributed during the day.

The store will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. each day of the opening sale. Regular store hours will be from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily and to 9 p. m. Fridays, Dubas revealed.

This completely self-service store has stocked a wide assortment of variety items arranged in displays for greatest convenience to shoppers with all articles within easy reach and clearly price-marked, according to Dubas. Located close to plenty of free parking space, the store is comfortably air conditioned, and equipped with modern lighting.

The local store is one of more than 2,400 independent Ben Franklin businesses which work cooperatively with Butler Brothers, nationwide merchandising organization. Explaining the Ben Franklin organization, Dubas said Butler Brothers maintains a major distribution center in Des Plaines to speed to local stores merchandise produced by hundreds of nationally-known manufacturers.

Backed by this large national organization, the Ben Franklin voluntary chain is now the largest group of variety stores in the country, Dubas pointed out.

He added that the entire interior and exterior design of the new store was planned by Butler Brothers on the basis of scientific studies of variety merchandise displays, customer buying habits, and trends in retailing.

"Through friendly and courteous service and by guaranteeing the quality of every product we sell, we want to make our Ben Franklin the most popular store in Antioch," Dubas said.

Groups Plan Veterans Day Ceremonies

In honor of the nation's war veterans, officers and members of the Antioch American Legion Post 748 will observe Veteran's Day tomorrow with services at 11 a. m. at the Cemetery.

Evening activities will get under way at 7:15 p. m. with an open house for Legion and Auxiliary members, their husbands, wives and other veterans in the community.

Entertainment and refreshments will be part of the evening's program.

In other observances of the 47th anniversary of Armistice (now Veteran's) Day, the Department of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lake Villa Memorial Auxiliary to Post 4308, and the Smith-Spaid Auxiliary 1293 of Waukegan will distribute cigarettes to veterans at Downey Hospital.

DEAR READER News Editorials

IS IT PRESTIGE WE NEED?

In the past few madcap days of campaigning much has been said about the prestige of this country and its lack. The measure of this country's prestige, we've been told, has been taken by the man in the streets of Paris, Rome, London and elsewhere abroad... and we've been found wanting so it is said. So what!

Perhaps we, as a nation, should concern ourselves not with prestige, but with power... power to establish sound policies and power to enforce them, power to protect what is lawfully ours, power to sit at the conference table to treat and to be treated as equals, power to fulfill our obligations within the family of nations, power to assist those less fortunate than we to achieve their lawful goals and ambitions, and power — God willing — to successfully lead the forces of freedom against the insidious spread of Communism.

Courthouse Notebook —

BY LOU DURKIN

Sees Merit in Volunteer Peace Corps

TATTERED LEAVES FROM THE ELECTION NOTEBOOK... This is being written before the election and events on Tuesday may already have proven them wrong, but...

Durkin

Wouldn't Gov. Bill Stratton have been better off emphasizing his own accomplishments instead of building up a bogeyman in Chicago's Mayor Daley? Could downstate voters care less about the municipal scandals in Chicago? Could running down Chicago and Chicago's mayor make it likely that he was going to attract any support in Chicago?

It seems to us that the only positive, exciting statement made by either presidential candidate in the whole campaign was Sen. Kennedy's suggestion for a volunteer youth peace corps of young doctors, engineers, technicians, agriculture experts to serve overseas as goodwill ambassadors. Our young servicemen proved to be pretty good envoys to the people of foreign lands where they were stationed and can reasonably be expected to do an even better job as civilians and not as members of a foreign Army or Navy.

Six months or a year of training and familiarization with the language and the customs of the country in which they would serve would equip these young men and women to do a creditable job of selling the United States to the rest of the world.

One of the first things Lake County's political parties should seek from the state legislature when it convenes in January is legislation to establish township committeemen to replace the precinct committeemen.

With 187 precincts in the county now and more to be formed before the next election, the central committees are becoming too bulky and cumbersome to do a good job for the parties.

It would be better to elect township committeemen and have each township committeeman appoint his precinct captains and workers.

Wonder what will happen to all the volunteer groups that sprang up for the presidential and gubernatorial candidates during the recent election?

It is unlikely that they will remain organized to work with the rest of the party organizations for future elections because there isn't enough glamor in working for the election of a sheriff or county clerk as there is for a president or senator.

These volunteer splinter groups did a good job in stirring up interest, but they also antagonized organization people who live and breathe politics the year around.

Some coordination is going to be necessary in the future if the regular organization and the volunteer groups are to work in harmony and achieve the goals they are seeking.

If Gov. Stratton is defeated, and there appears to be a strong likelihood that he will be as these lines are written, will the highway jobs earmarked for Lake County be shelved?

Will Grand Ave. remain a narrow, hazardous bottleneck west of Waukegan? Will the 22nd St. project in North Chicago and the Industrial Highway already on the planning boards be put back in the pigeon holes?

Wouldn't Lake County residents have been more interested in these questions than in the personal dislike of Gov. Stratton for Mayor Daley?

And now that the elections are over will the people who were out working for candidates exhibit the same enthusiasm and insistence on good government or will they go back into their holes and forget about government and politics until the next election with its excitement and hoopla?

Our guess is that very few of those who turned out to be counted at political rallies and parties for candidates will take in a single school board meeting, or meeting of the county board of supervisors to see what is going on in their own local governments.

Do you realize that you must report your net profit from your business to Internal Revenue every year? This is required by law, and it is the only way in which you get social security credits.

Be Alert After Sun Goes Down

As Illinois communities prepare to return to central standard time, the Chicago Motor club cautions motorists to be alert "because accidents go up when the sun goes down."

The club stressed that three out of five traffic fatalities occur at night although only 30 per cent of driving is done during darkness.

With the return to standard time at 2 a. m., Sunday, October 30, the club pointed out that darkness would fall during the late afternoon when both pedestrians and motorists are returning home from work.

To reduce accidents, the club's safety and traffic engineering department suggests:

Cut down driving speeds at night. Be especially watchful for pedestrians. A pedestrian wearing dark clothing is hard to see under artificial light.

Keep headlights and windshields clean to provide maximum visibility.

Check taillights, turn signals, and high and low headlight beams to make sure they are working properly.

Make allowance for your age. Recovery from glare is slower when you are more than 30 years of age.

'Disability Pay' Rulings Changed

"The 1960 amendments to the Social Security law made one very important change in that part of the law pertaining to disability payments," according to Bernard Barnett, manager of the Waukegan Social Security office.

"This change makes it possible for a severely disabled worker, and certain of his dependents, to get disability payments without waiting until he attains age 50.

"Before the law was changed, disability payments could not be made until the disabled worker reached age 50. He could only have his benefit rate frozen.

"The recent change in the law makes it unnecessary for the disabled person to wait until he becomes age 50 for benefits to start."

Barnett emphasized, however, that no change was made in the law with respect to how disabled an individual must be in order to qualify for disability payments.

As under the old law, the disabled person must be severely disabled, and in the words of the law, "unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity."

Disability payments cannot be made for an illness or injury, no matter how severe, if it is expected to be only temporary in nature.

The condition must have lasted for at least 6 months and must be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time.

Barnett went on to explain that if a disabled person can no longer work at his old job, but can do other substantial gainful work, he cannot qualify under these disability provisions.

He stated that more detailed information about social security disability insurance protection can be obtained by writing to or calling the Waukegan Social Security office.

Note To Motorists; List License Number

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—As the seasonal rush of applications for motor vehicle licenses approaches, retary of State Charles F. Carpenter reminded motorists they are to list their drivers license numbers on the application for license plates.

This added item of information is being asked to achieve greater coordination in the state's traffic safety program by making it possible to cross file information in the files of the Automobile Division, Drivers License Division and Safety-Responsibility Division, Mr. Carpenter said.

The result will be a reduction in the possibility of error in identifying persons whose driving privileges have been revoked or suspended, and speeded up identification of motor vehicles and motor vehicle operators, Secretary Carpenter said.

It is the first time an effort has been made to coordinate fully the data in the three files, Mr. Carpenter said.

Oakland PTA Briefed On Library Operation

The Oakland Grade School PTA met in the school gymnasium last Monday evening.

To observe Book Week, Nov. 13 to 19, Mrs. Marian Harden gave a short talk, explaining how the library is governed. She also showed what types of books appeal to the different age groups of children. Mrs. Harden suggested that every family should have a reading hour. "From the age of 18 months to two years, children show an interest in books," said Mrs. Harden.

This current week is American Education week, and Mr. Robert Chandler, vice president, gave a talk on this subject. He said the week is for adults as well as children. He also pointed out that children must get on their own before they really begin to learn. It is not good for them to be too protected.

Mrs. Donald Gable, membership chairman, announced there were 182 members as of November 7. The contest for membership at Oakland will continue to December 1.

The December meeting has been changed from the usual first Monday of the month to Dec. 19, as this will be the Christmas program and family potluck. Letters will be sent to parents on this later.

Mrs. Jill Erickson, 6th grade teacher, was in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Leonard Andre, room mother, and Mrs. Arthur Schroeder assisted.

Scully, Mrs. Thomas Pechousek, Mrs. Robert Berg and Mrs. Joseph DeStefano. Each past president told a little of her experiences while in office; Mrs. Rosing brought with her a picture taken at the time of the Society's 25th anniversary and Mrs. Scully telling of her term in office with a poem.

Mrs. Pauline Hart, social chairman, gave St. Cecilia medals to the 11 members celebrating November birthdays.

Mrs. E. B. LaPlant and her Medical Missions committee served refreshments from a Thanksgiving decorated tea table.

Father Victor, O.F.M. from the Franciscan Monastery at Burlington, Wis., read the 9 o'clock mass for the retreat planned by Mrs. John Harrison, Jr. Father Victor held conferences until noon when the Day of Recollection ended. Some 50 ladies of the parish attended the retreat.

Two things to consider during night driving, are your eyes and your lights; practically everything depends on one of these two factors, or both. Many nighttime accidents are caused by overdriving your lights. By the time a driver sees that he must make an emergency move, he is beyond the point where he can do it. A good rule: Drive two-thirds as fast at night as you would during similar daytime conditions.

If you plan to retire at an early date you can help the social security people to process your claim promptly by calling them at least a month before you are actually ready to retire. A telephone call will be sufficient, or you can visit your social security representative in person at your local social security district office.

Changing Tires Can Be Simple

Changing a tire can be a simple task if the motorist is prepared for the emergency and follows the basic rules of safety, according to Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's safety and traffic engineering department.

Before starting on any trip, motorists should check the spare tire of air, and make certain they have the proper tools for changing a tire, he said.

Sielski pointed out that one of the first indications of a flat tire is a side pull on the steering wheel. When this happens, a motorist should slow down immediately and make sure he pulls the car completely off the road.

Other basic tire changing rules are:

Make sure your parking spot has a sufficiently firm surface to support the car while it is on the jack. (Motorists should carry a plank or rock in the trunk to support the Jack on soft dirt. Before raising the car, put the emergency brake on to prevent rolling.

All passengers should step out of the car so they won't be jarred if the jack does slip.

When changing a tire at night use a flare or flasher to warn oncoming traffic. Also keep your driving lights on.

Over 1,000 school districts in Illinois paid $19,591,028.10 for the transportation of school pupils during the school year 1958-1959. George T. Wilkins, superintendent of public instruction, stated that $6,878,343.14 of this amount was returned to the school districts as reimbursements from the State of Illinois, made in accord with the Illinois laws on pupil transportation.

THE Civil War Draft

In the last mail before communications were cut between North and South, a Georgia policyholder received a Hartford draft in payment of a claim. Although the war prevented it from being cashed it was used as security for loans for the duration!

When the war was over the draft was sent north. Worn and endorsed with dozens of signatures, indicating its usage as a means of trade and barter, it was honored by the Hartford.

PUZZLED?

... about food shopping? Frankly, we don't blame you. There are times when we, in the food business, get kind of addled ourselves. How in the world can a person KNOW that she is shopping sensibly ... getting the most for her food dollar?

Each grocer claims to have all the right on his side (kind of reminds one of political debates) ... so that customer puzzlement results.

We'd like to clear the air - to say that it is NOT a few pennies saved here and there on a "Special" that counts - but the DOLLARS YOU SAVE EVERY WEEK ON THE BULK OF WHAT YOU BUY.

We guarantee that Piggly Wiggly has lower everyday prices on a larger selection of national brands than you'll find anywhere else in town. May we invite you to make your own comparison? We're confident that you'll wind up one of our regular customers.

Venetian Village Senior Troop To Enter New Phase of Scouting

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau
Phone M. 6-3449

LINDENHURST — All residents are invited to attend the ceremonies next Monday evening at the Venetian Village Civic hall starting at 7 p.m. when Senior Patrol Scout Troop No. 88 will change over to Explorers Post No. 88. This is a new phase of scouting for this area. Robert Hammett of Venetian Village will be the adviser, and Robert Alderton of Venetian Village, assistant adviser. Troop leader will be Gordon McGee of Venetian Village; assistant troop leaders will be John Springer of Lindenhurst, and Howard Estab of West Moline.

Don't forget the "pancake" breakfast at Prince of Peace Church Sunday, sponsored by the Holy Name society. Pancakes will be served after each mass.

The Lindenhurst Junior Police club will meet next Tuesday evening at the Lindenhurst Men's club. Guest speaker for the evening will be "Hay" Schrielder of the Lake Villa Rescue Squad, who will give some first aid instructions.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Lindenhurst Men's club will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Lindenhurst village hall. Mrs. Lu Stanley is president. As a ways and means project the organization will have a Tupperware demonstration. Everyone in the area is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. George (Alice) Haake and their three children, Susan, 10, Marty, 8, and Michael, 2, are newcomers to the community. Before moving to Lindenhurst they lived in Waukegan. They are renting the home owned by the Puckett on Hazelwood Drive.

Before her marriage Alice lived on Rollins Road in Lake Villa. Her maiden name was Leng and she is a graduate of Antioch High School.

George recently received the State Farm Insurance Companies appointment and has offices at Rollins Road between routes 21 and 45, with his father-in-law, William B. Leng. He was in the coal business before moving here.

The Friday night bunco club met at the home of Mrs. Rose Whitlock on Fairfield Road, Oct. 28. Mrs. Harriet Bonovitz received a wall plaque, Rose, a bottle of bubble bath and Mary Lou Aldwardt, the booby prize. Other players were Florence Nastrucci, Vicky Olszewski and Rose Ann Raecht.

Rose also gave a demonstration of ten artificial centerpieces, that she is offering for sale, on behalf of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Bernice Meyers, who is "Bernice-the-Florist" in Waukegan.

Thirty years ago 76 students were enrolled in the Lake Villa School. Today we have 1,134 students enrolled in the Lake Villa and Hooper schools, and 309 in the Prince of Peace school. What will the enrollment be 30 years hence?

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Willie (Grace) Brown of Burr Oak Lane on the birth of Glen Allen, born Oct. 19 at Victory Memorial hospital. Dr. Alan Thain delivered the youngster who weighed 9 lbs., 1 oz. The Browns have two other children, Betty Ann, 4, and Mark, 2. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rendall of Antioch. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, of Union, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Art (Donna) Neubauer of Deerpath and Mr. and Mrs. Sam (Mary) Loblillo of Countryside Lane attended the Elks' bowling party in Waukegan Saturday evening. They were the guests of Bertrand's Bowling Lanes. The dinner, dancing and floor show was for officers of bowling leagues. Eight persons represented Bertrand's.

Commander and Auxiliary president Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mc McLelland, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Langbein, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kasting, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reinhart, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitmore, Francis Barnstable and Charles Schriemser, members of Lake Villa Post and Auxiliary 4308, attended the membership kickoff dinner at the Flick-Ready Corp. plant at Bensenville, last Saturday. They were entertained by stage and TV personalities and danced to "Red" Sarnes' orchestra.

The Lindenhurst Daisies Jr. group held their second meeting Nov. 2, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Andrew (Edith) Westberg, on Woodlane Drive.

Sixteen girls belong to the club, all fourth through eighth grade students. The project for the fourth and fifth grade girls are the "A, B, C's of Cooking." The sixth, seventh, and eighth grade girls' project is "Adventure in Cooking." The girls are given homework of planning different menus and various ways of cooking eggs at home.

New officers elected are Susan Burzynski, president; Sandra Hertel, vice president; Linda Matthies, secretary; Linda Lloyd, reporter; and Judy Spieg, committee chairman.

Other members of this 4-H club are Beverly Bybee, Linda and Jean Bywell, Cathy and Debbie Mertes, Debbie Ross, Kathy Guzski, Donna Maxwell, Dolores Zanzola, Maxine Shuts and Armell Shepard. They meet every other Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The Leland Hansens recently finished adding a beautiful, large room to their home on Sprucewood Drive in anticipation of the arrival of Mrs. Hansen's mother, Mrs. Marie Sorenson, formerly of Chicago. Mrs. Sorenson has retired from her position with the Bankers Insurance Co., where she has been employed for the past nine years since her husband's death.

Pontiac tailors body design to a new Wide-Track

Better balance and roadability! Control that can't be copied!

We've built more room and greater roadability into this sleek new '61 Pontiac. There's more headroom, legroom and footroom. Doors are wider and they're designed to open farther for greater convenience.

By trimming side overhang, we balanced more weight directly between the wheels. The '61 Pontiac gives you greater stability. It gives you a greater sense of control for every mile, every maneuver.

Isn't now the time to try the Wide-Track way to travel?

Agent Reveals Proper Methods To Combat Dutch Elm Disease

By Leland Smith
Kenosha County Hort. Agent

There are two things necessary to control the Dutch Elm disease—spray and sanitation. The sanitation phase is to cut and burn all dead or dying elm trees. Spraying is with D. D. T. to protect the healthy elms against the elm bark beetle which carries Dutch elm disease.

The spraying phase of the control program can be done now as soon as the leaves fall from the elm trees. Dick Lindl, superintendent of the County Parks, tells me they have started their spray program for this fall now that the leaves have fallen.

Spraying during the dormant season assures one of better coverage of the tree and, therefore, better protection. The dormant D.D.T. spray has a long residual effect and can be applied any time after leaf fall up to April 15. If a thorough application is made on the twigs and bark, we are assured that the elms are protected during the period when they are most susceptible to infection.

For those who want their elms sprayed, it would be wise to contact the custom sprayer now when he can do the job rather than wait until April, where he will probably be booked up.

Sprayers are limited in the amount of time they can spray as temperatures should be above 40 degrees with little or no wind. Many times this requires night spraying.

Shade Trees Listed

We are often asked what shade trees should be planted. First of all, some trees that are fast growing, have weak wood which breaks in wind storms. Such weak trees are: Chinese elm, poplar, box elder, willow and silver maple.

In checking the Whitnall Park recommendations, we find that thornless honey locust is highly recommended. Some of its improved varieties are: Moraine, Imperial and Skyline. These honey locusts are fast growing, strong and have few pest problems.

Some maples are good shade trees. The most popular are the Crimson King and Schwedler maples with their reddish colored leaves. Red maple grows into a nice tree, but has a weak wood. Sugar and Norway maples grow well, too, but produce a dense shade that makes grass growing difficult.

Three oaks recommended: Red Oak is the most rapid growing. Pin Oak and Scarlet Oak are very well shaped trees and have dark red leaves in the fall. The Pin Oak has the problem of leaf yellowing on alkaline soils and the Scarlet Oak is difficult to transplant.

Types to Plant

Some of the other shade trees that can be grown are: Green Ash, American Linden; Sycamore; Kentucky coffee tree and the Ginkgo.

Many times, smaller trees do better in the landscaping than the large shade trees, such as the little leaf linden. Others to consider are: Paper Birch, European Beech, Eastern Redbud, Pyramidal English Oak and Plumleaf Hawthorne.

There are about a dozen flowering Crabapple trees recommended by Whitnall Park. They are: Elsie Rathke, Bob White, Katherine, Columbar, Siberian, Lemoine, Flame, Almey, Sergeant, Chinese Pearleaf, Makamit and Eley. These crabapples get many of the same diseases and insects as our eating apples do, so a spray program would be needed for these trees.

Some evergreens make nice shade trees. The Colorado Blue Spruce is a common evergreen in lawns as are Black Hills Spruce and Douglas Fir. Red and white pines are generally used as windbreaks. The Serbian spruce has distinctive

MOOSE TOPICS

A Feather party will be held at Antioch Moose Lodge on Saturday, starting at 8 p.m. This is an annual affair.

A dance will follow the feather party and, according to Henry Grewe, party chairman, there will be plenty of fowls.

Arthur Andersen, governor, and Robert Avery, past governor, attended the Executive Board of Winner Legion No. 74 breakfast and meeting at the Waukegan Moose needle color and drooping branches, but is not widely obtainable.

Actually, there are many trees to choose from to take the place of the stately American elm. If elms are planted, they should be sprayed each year.

We expect to receive order blanks soon from the Wisconsin Conservation Department for small evergreens for woodlot planting.

These trees are not available for landscaping, but are used for reforestation, windbreaks, shelterbelts, erosion control and wildlife plantings.

Home Sunday morning.

Two short movie films, "The Dew Line Story" and "Three Furies"—were shown following the regular meeting last night at the Antioch Moose Home.

Tickets are now available for the Dec. 31 New Year's dance to be held at the Antioch Moose Home.

Mrs. Aspegren answers the front door by using the phone in the master bedroom.

Mrs. Aspegren says that Cynthia, 10, and Clifford, Jr. have no difficulty in operating the new Home Interphone.

Mr. Aspegren, an insurance executive, finds the basement recreation room speaker handy.

A delivery boy identifies himself to Mrs. Aspegren through the speaker-microphone on the front door.

"We've a fast-moving family—so thank goodness for our new HOME INTERPHONE!"

says Mrs. Clifford S. Aspegren of Evanston

Busy, bustling and happy is the Aspegren household at 2723 Woodland Road in Evanston. But sometimes Mrs. Aspegren isn't quite sure just where her two children are at one time. That's one reason why the Aspegrens have a new Home Interphone.

The Home Interphone is Illinois Bell's new intercom system which works through your regular telephones.

Separate speakers are installed next to the extension telephones. At the Aspegrens there are speakers located in the basement, the kitchen, the master bedroom, the upstairs hall and the downstairs hall.

There's also the special convenience of a speaker-microphone on the front door which can be answered from any phone in the house.

Mrs. Aspegren says: "You can't imagine how many steps a day the Home Interphone saves me. Or how many trips up and down the stairs. When I want to know where one of the children is, I just pick up the phone and talk to them most anywhere in the house. The Interphone is so simple, even my six year old uses it regularly."

Clifford, Jr., 6, is much easier to locate with the new speaker in the upstairs hall.

Drop in at your Illinois Bell business office and see the Home Interphone. You can try it and see how easy it is to use.

Sequoits Downed 14 - 6 in Season Finale

Wauconda Win Drops Antioch Into Basement

Long-suffering Wauconda, winless since it last took the measure of Antioch's Sequoits in September, 1958, snapped a 19-game losing streak Saturday by downing the Antioch gridirons 14-6 in Wauconda. By its victory, the Bulldogs were able to escape the Northwest Suburban cellar for the first time since 1958.

Antioch's luckless team battled down to the wire in an effort to break into the win column for the first time in 8 games, but were never able to head the Bulldogs, who took a 7-0 lead in the second quarter.

The game was a scoreless duel in the first quarter, with the Bulldogs capitalizing on a partially blocked punt to move ahead 7-0 in the second. Taking over on the Sequoits' 38-yard line, Wauconda scored in six plays, climaxed by a 19-yard pass from quarterback Chuck Sauer to Jack Cook, end.

This ended the scoring until early in the fourth period when Lance Keisler, Antioch halfback, made a brilliant 49-yard punt return. Starting from 34 yards out, the Sequoits hit pay dirt in five plays with Chuck Shuth going over from the 1-yard line. George Hogan's kick was wide and the Bulldogs still led 7-6.

Wauconda wrapped up the game late in the last quarter with a 55-yard drive led by Ron Christ, sophomore halfback, who eventually went over from the 2-yard line. Wesselhorf again converted.

Standouts for the Sequoits in this closing game of the season were Bill Bonner, who did a top job of line backing, Frank Brown, working at left end, and Chuck Shuth, who turned in a fine defensive performance.

GEORGE HOGAN, versatile quarterback of Antioch's Sequoits, is about to come to an abrupt halt at the hands of Wauconda's Bulldogs during late stages of close-fought game there. The Bulldogs took Antioch's measure 14-6 to register their first win in 19 and to dump Antioch into last place.

Sequoits Point To '61 with 12 Vets Returning

Only rarely have coaches been heralded for their optimism, but Sequoit's football coach, Bob Walther, now joins the ranks of those who see little other than good ahead in next year's gridiron wars.

Still smarting from last week's loss to Wauconda's Bulldogs, 14-6, Coach Walther relaxed in the equipment-strewn locker room of Antioch Township High School and let it be known that he is looking forward to greener years. Here's how he sizes up next year's squad:

Prospects—Two years ago we had one tie, one win for the season. Yet, the next year we wound up for a 6-win, 2-loss record, losing those two by a total of 8 points. If a team has the stuff, it will bounce back. The team this year was basically good, but never came up with a winning combination. Our attack left something to be desired. George Hogan can thread a needle but lacked skilled receivers. John Halliva, coming up from the sophomore squad, should give Hogan the target he needs next year.

Personnel—Coach Walther's prime problem will be development of two aggressive defensive and offensive tackles. Of this year's squad of 32, 21 will be back next year, 12 of them lettermen, including: Frank Brown, Don Verkest, Joe Pleviak, Frank Nauseda; Steve Chandler, Bob Krieger, Bruce Wollpert, Toby Henry, and the entire backfield ow George Hogan, Ray Partipilli, Joe Gates and Bob Barnstable.

Things will be looking up for Antioch in 1961.

sion won 3 from Myers Standard Service.

JOE GATES, Antioch fullback, gets off a long punt during game at Wauconda last Saturday. Sequoits' hopes soared, when, with but a minute to go Barnstable snared a 26-yard pass to go all the way, only to have the score nullified by a penalty.

Falcon Cagers Face 'Black' Season - - - Only 4 Veterans

PADDOCK LAKE, Wis.—Salem Central High School's Falcons face an "extremely black" basketball season this year, Coach Dorm Grams predicted glumly this week.

The Falcons are working out for their opening game Nov. 18 at Burlington.

"We have only four lettermen on the roster," Coach Grams said, "and only Captain Tom Straulin returns with proven ability."

Grams sized the team up as a "very green squad that could come along by the end of the season if the underclassmen develop."

Young juniors will predominate in a lineup that will be hard pressed to stay out of the second division.

THIS SEASON'S squad is in sharp contrast to last year's which was the best in school history, posting a season record of 16 wins and 4 losses. It had a Southeastern Conference record of 12 wins and 2 losses, and was tied with Big Foot of Walworth for the conference crown.

Lost by graduation were Capt. Ron Yates, an all-conference guard who racked up 282 points; Len Krawczyk, all-conference center, with 258 points; Gene Schultz, 183 points; Dave Erickson, 151 points; Dick Neu, 99 points; Ted Weidner, 65 points; Fred Lentz, 56 points; Art Foulke, 38 points.

Coach Grams sees the conference outlook as a hot two-way battle between Walworth Big Foot and Williams Bay, which will both be manned by lettermen at every spot. Union Grove and Waterford get the nod as the best of the others.

IN THIS YEAR'S lineup will be Straulin, 6-2, 175 lbs., a senior at forward; Glen Schulz, 5-7, 143 lbs., junior, guard; John Ziehen, 5-11, 136 lbs., junior, forward; Dan Yates, 6-0, 146 lbs., junior, forward; John Lentz, 5-9, 172 lbs., junior, guard; Virgil Gentz, 5-11, 171 lbs., senior, forward; George Rodis, 5-11, 144 lbs., junior, forward.

Also Jim Westman, 5-11, 144 lbs., senior, forward; Dave Johnson, 5-11, 218 lbs., senior, guard; Jim Hofer, 6-1, 159 lbs., junior, forward; Darrell Fofahl, 6-3, 198 lbs., junior, center; Ron Davis, 5-7, 143 lbs., junior, guard.

Also Ralph Remus, 5-8, 186 lbs., junior, forward; George Whittle, 5-9, 137 lbs., junior, forward; Tom Birkeland, 5-8, 170 lbs., senior, guard; Larry Paasch, 5-11, 158 lbs., senior, forward; Dick Pritchard, 5-6, 141 lbs., junior, forward.

Virgil Gentz, Dave Johnson and John Lentz will be lost to the squad

for a while because of football injuries.

Varsity cheerleaders rallying support of the Falcons this year are Carol Vojtech, Donna Anderson, Dianne Reiter, Gloria Beck, Judy Sorenson and Judy Erickson. Cheerleading director is Ruth Leef-tink.

Cagers Prep for Opener At Mooseheart, Nov. 26

Mindful of last year's impressive 22 wins against 5 losses, Coach Larry Leon's Antioch cagers are slowly building up a head of steam in preparation for the season's opener Nov. 26 at Mooseheart.

Loss of high-scoring Jerry Dahlman and Don Pyles through graduation can't help but leave several gaps to fill, according to Leon. But with six lettermen returning, and prospects of a well-balanced squad, Antioch's youthful coach is anything but unhappy.

Lettermen working for starting spots in the lineup are: Les Herbst, Brian Elliott, Brian Palenske, Dudley Sheehan, Ed Martin and Chuck Schuth. All are seniors. Juniors showing promise in early practice sessions are: Bob Krieger, Denny Pogose, George Hogan, Joe Pleviak, Bud Dittman and Bill Ozga.

In considering current prospects, Antioch cage enthusiasts can't help but hark back to Dahlman with his 27-point-per game average, now attending Brigham Young U., Don Pyles, always good for 20 points, now prepping in Maryland; and playmaker Dick Gudgeon, now in the Marines.

Coach Leon warns that a 22-5 record is good in any company and almost too much to expect. But there are no worry lines as he predicts that this year's squad will have more balance than last year's and should give a creditable performance over the season.

A new ruling trims the number of games to 18 and two tournaments as compared to 20 plus two tournaments plus state tournaments of previous years.

Antioch Women Arise!! C.R.A.M.S. Will Free You

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell

Reading numerous blurbs relative to the Presidential campaign and watching several T. V. programs on the same subject has finally hardened a resolve which has been slowly building in me for some time: I am going to start a campaign to take away from women all their hard-won equal rights and restore men to the supremacy they say they yearn for.

Let's face it. Men, with a great show of reluctance and continual grumbling and griping, have gleefully handed over to us not only all the rights they had, but all the responsibilities, irksome jobs and the dirty work they longed to be rid of.

They've out-smarted us again! Women of America, (or at least, Antioch and vicinity) unite! Join my organization—the C.R.A.M.S.—Campaign to Restore American Male Supremacy.

Ladies, stop and think. What have you really gained? The right to vote? To hold a job? To be blamed for everything that goes wrong in the family, from your husband losing his job to Junior getting pinched for speeding? To dash madly around working for all sorts of organizations when you could be sitting and relaxing?

Statistics show that most husbands and wives vote for the same candidates. Obviously, someone is influencing someone. If you're voting the way your husband does, why bother?

If things don't go right after election, think of the glorious opportunities for pointing out to your husband what a lousy job men do of running the world.

Don't think American men are going to hand the old easy life back to you without a struggle. Though men do a lot of talking about wanting a sweet little feminine, homebody for a wife, they know full well when they have a good thing going.

As things now stand, a wife is expected to look like Brigitte Bardot, have a brain like Einstein's and a disposition like Pollyanna's.

And what is expected of a husband? That he be male. Having been born handsome and attractive to the opposite sex, and confident that these qualities remain his, he has no need for the artificial aids and care of his person to which his wife is enslaved.

It took considerable delicate hinting on the part of radio and TV announcers to convince men that it was not necessary to smell like a goat. Deodorants were finally adopted by men—mostly at the urging of their fellow-workers. This was a great step forward, but progress is slow. And I fear we're losing much more than we're gaining.

Think of the good old days. No self-respecting man would let his wife work—except at home. So any lucky woman who caught a man could look forward to being supported for the rest of her life in return for nothing but keeping house. She could eat, get fat and old and homely.

If she had a baby, she lay comfortably in bed for 10 days while someone else did the work, and was honored and respected just because she was a mother.

Father disciplined the children, did all the thinking for the family (he thought) and had to take the blame for the consequences. Considering all this, a small doubt has crept into my mind as to just who got emancipated.

Under our present regime of equal rights we are continually reminded that we must lovingly tend the delicate flower of manhood we have won in the marriage lottery.

Women are constantly besieged by solemn reminders, via the newspapers, magazines, TV and radio—and their husbands, who, unfortunately, can read, too—that they must watch solicitously over Husband's diet, working habits, general health, and emotional well-being. All this so that she can preserve him, hale and hearty, for a long and healthy retirement.

He retires.

I have heard several women hint, lately, that they are getting deathly sick of this same old song. After working several years to take the load off dear old daddy, dieting to keep slim, and working hard at staying young and beautiful, they took a long look at daddy and began to wonder if he was worth the trouble.

In politics, a man's success in attaining public office is now largely determined by how good his wife looks on TV. I know quite a few people who are having a tough time making up their minds whether to vote for Jackie Kennedy or Pat Nixon.

When a woman is running for office, does anyone care what her husband is like?

Wouldn't it be delightful to put an end to this insidious propaganda for all time? We can do it, by simply agreeing that Father Knows Best.

Let's return to the good old days when if you wanted something your husband couldn't afford, you cried for it instead of going out and working for it.

Let's go back to being weak, silly creatures, who can't lift anything heavier than a dinner plate—if there's a man around—and are too dumb to make any decision more important than what to cook for supper.

And who's going to worry about who looks out for these lordly beings? Nobody. Being free, male and so superior, let 'em look out for themselves.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We really do love Mrs. Kapell, but her original story was far too long for the space we had. So in order to present it to you in any form at all it had to be very furiously edited—by a man!)

Sequoits Downed 14 - 6 in Season Finale

Wauconda Win Drops Antioch Into Basement

Long-suffering Wauconda, winless since it last took the measure of Antioch's Sequoits in September, 1958, snapped a 19-game losing streak Saturday by downing the Antioch gridders 14-6 in Wauconda. By its victory, the Bulldogs were able to escape the Northwest Suburban cellar for the first time since 1958.

Antioch's luckless team battled down to the wire in an effort to break into the win column for the first time in 8 games, but were never able to head the Bulldogs, who took a 7-0 lead in the second quarter.

The game was a scoreless duel in the first quarter, with the Bulldogs capitalizing on a partially blocked punt to move ahead 7-0 in the second. Taking over on the Sequoits' 38-yard line, Wauconda scored in six plays, climaxed by a 19-yard pass from quarterback Chuck Sauer to Jack Cook, end.

This ended the scoring until early in the fourth period when Lance Keisler, Antioch halfback, made a brilliant 49-yard punt return. Starting from 34 yards out, the Sequoits hit pay dirt in five plays with Chuck Shuth going over from the 1-yard line. George Hogan's kick was wide and the Bulldogs still led 7-6.

Wauconda wrapped up the game late in the last quarter with a 55-yard drive led by Ron Christ, sophomore halfback, who eventually went over from the 2-yard line. Wesselhorf again converted.

Standouts for the Sequoits in this closing game of the season were Bill Bonner, who did a top job of line backing, Frank Brown, working at left end, and Chuck Schuth, who turned in a fine defensive performance.

GEORGE HOGAN, versatile quarterback of Antioch's Sequoits, is about to come to an abrupt halt at the hands of Wauconda's Bulldogs during late stages of close-fought game there. The Bulldogs took Antioch's measure 14-6 to register their first win in 19 and to dump Antioch into last place.

Sequoits Point To '61 with 12 Vets Returning

Only rarely have coaches been heralded for their optimism, but Sequoit's football coach, Bob Walther, now joins the ranks of those who see little other than good ahead in next year's gridiron wars.

Still smarting from last week's loss to Wauconda's Bulldogs, 14-6, Coach Walther relaxed in the equipment-strewn locker room of Antioch Township High School and let it be known that he is looking forward to greener years. Here's how he sizes up next year's squad:

Prospects—Two years ago we had one tie, one win for the season. Yet, the next year we wound up for a 6-win, 2-loss record, losing those two by a total of 8 points. If a team has the stuff, it will bounce back. The team this year was basically good, but never came up with a winning combination. Our attack left something to be desired. George Hogan can thread a needle but lacked skilled receivers. John Halliva, coming up from the sophomore squad, should give Hogan the target he needs next year.

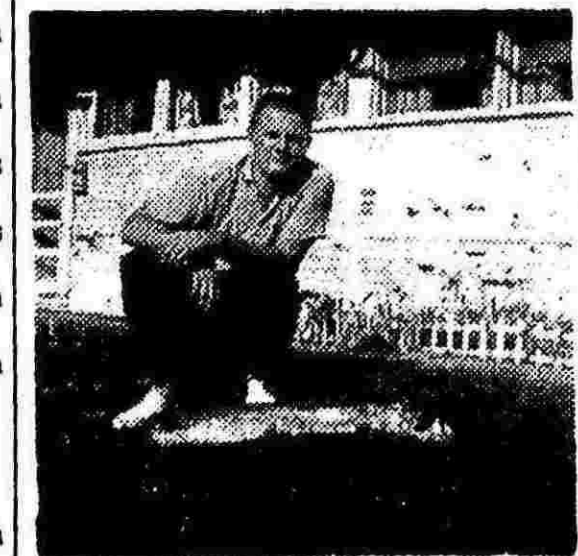

Personnel—Coach Walther's prime problem will be development of two aggressive defensive and offensive tackles. Of this year's squad of 32, 21 will be back next year, 12 of them lettermen, including: Frank Brown, Don Verkest, Joe Pleviak, Frank Nauseda; Steve Chandler, Bob Krieger, Bruce Wollpert, Toby Henry, and the entire backfield ow George Hogan, Ray Partipilli, Joe Gates and Bob Barnstable.

Things will be looking up for Antioch in 1961.

sion won 3 from Myers Standard Service.

JOE GATES, Antioch fullback, gets off a long punt during game at Wauconda last Saturday. Sequoits' hopes soared, when, with but a minute to go Barnstable snared a 26-yard pass to go all the way, only to have the score nullified by a penalty.

Falcon Cagers Face 'Black' Season - - - Only 4 Veterans

PADDOCK LAKE, Wis.—Salem Central High School's Falcons face an "extremely black" basketball season this year, Coach Dorm Grams predicted glumly this week.

The Falcons are working out for their opening game Nov. 18 at Burlington.

"We have only four lettermen on the roster," Coach Grams said, "and only Captain Tom Straulin returns with proven ability."

Grams sized the team up as a "very green squad that could come along by the end of the season if the underclassmen develop."

Young juniors will predominate in a lineup that will be hard pressed to stay out of the second division.

THIS SEASON'S squad is in sharp contrast to last year's which was the best in school history, posting a season record of 16 wins and 4 losses. It had a Southeastern Conference record of 12 wins and 2 losses, and was tied with Big Foot of Walworth for the conference crown.

Lost by graduation were Capt. Ron Yates, an all-conference guard who racked up 282 points; Len Krawczyk, all-conference center, with 258 points; Gene Schultz, 183 points; Dave Erickson, 151 points; Dick Neu, 99 points; Ted Weidner, 85 points; Fred Lentz, 56 points; Art Foulke, 38 points.

Coach Grams sees the conference outlook as a hot two-way battle between Walworth Big Foot and Williams Bay, which will both be manned by lettermen at every spot. Union Grove and Watford get the nod as the best of the others.

IN THIS YEAR'S lineup will be Straulin, 6-2, 175 lbs., a senior at forward; Glen Schulz, 5-7, 143 lbs., junior, guard; John Ziehen, 5-11, 136 lbs., junior, forward; Dan Yates, 6-0, 146 lbs., junior, forward; John Lentz, 5-9, 172 lbs., junior, guard; Virgil Gentz, 5-11, 171 lbs., senior, forward; George Rodis, 5-11, 144 lbs., junior, forward.

Also Jim Westman, 5-11, 144 lbs., senior, forward; Dave Johnson, 5-11, 218 lbs., senior, guard; Jim Hofer, 6-1, 159 lbs., junior, forward; Darrell Pofahl, 6-3, 198 lbs., junior, center; Ron Davis, 5-7, 143 lbs., junior, guard.

Also Ralph Remus, 5-8, 186 lbs., junior, forward; George Whittle, 5-9, 137 lbs., junior, forward; Tom Birkeland, 5-8, 170 lbs., senior, guard; Larry Paasch, 5-11, 158 lbs., senior, forward; Dick Pritchard, 5-6, 141 lbs., junior, forward.

Virgil Gentz, Dave Johnson and John Lentz will be lost to the squad

for a while because of football injuries.

Varsity cheerleaders rallying support of the Falcons this year are Carol Vojtech, Donna Anderson, Dianne Reiter, Gloria Beck, Judy Sorenson and Judy Erickson. Cheerleading director is Ruth Leef-tink.

Cagers Prep for Opener At Mooseheart, Nov. 26

Mindful of last year's impressive 22 wins as against 5 losses, Coach Larry Leon's Antioch cagers are slowly building up a head of steam in preparation for the season's opener Nov. 26 at Mooseheart.

Loss of high-scoring Jerry Dahman and Don Fyles through graduation can't help but leave several gaps to fill, according to Leon. But with six lettermen returning, and prospects of a well-balanced squad, Antioch's youthful coach is anything but unhappy.

Lettermen working for starting spots in the lineup are: Les Herbst, Brian Elliott, Brian Palenske, Dudley Sheehan, Ed Martin and Chuck Schuth. All are seniors. Juniors showing promise in early practice sessions are: Bob Krieger, Denny Pogose, George Hogan, Joe Pleviak, Bud Dittman and Bill Ozga.

In considering current prospects, Antioch cage enthusiasts can't help but hark back to Dahman with his 27-point-per game average, now attending Brigham Young U., Don Fyles, always good for 20 points, now prepping in Maryland; and playmaker Dick Gudgeon, now in the Marines.

Coach Leon warns that a 22-5 record is good in any company and almost too much to expect. But there are no worry lines as he predicts that this year's squad will have more balance than last year's and should give a creditable performance over the season.

A new ruling trims the number of games to 18 and two tournaments as compared to 20 plus two tournaments plus state tournaments of previous years.

Antioch Women Arise!! C.R.A.M.S. Will Free You

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell

Reading numerous blurbs relative to the Presidential campaign and watching several T. V. programs on the same subject has finally hardened a resolve which has been slowly building in me for some time: I am going to start a campaign to take away from women all their hard-won equal rights and restore men to the supremacy they say they yearn for.

Let's face it. Men, with a great show of reluctance and continual grumbling and griping, have gleefully handed over to us not only all the rights they had, but all the responsibilities, irksome jobs and the dirty work they longed to be rid of.

They've out-smarted us again! Women of America, (or at least, Antioch and vicinity) unite! Join my organization—the C.R.A.M.S.—Campaign to Restore American Male Supremacy.

Ladies, stop and think. What have you really gained? The right to vote? To hold a job? To be blamed for everything that goes wrong in the family, from your husband losing his job to Junior getting pinched for speeding? To dash madly around working for all sorts of organizations when you could be sitting and relaxing?

Statistics show that most husbands and wives vote for the same candidates. Obviously, someone is influencing someone. If you're voting the way your husband does, why bother?

If things don't go right after election, think of the glorious opportunities for pointing out to your husband what a lousy job men do of running the world.

Don't think American men are going to hand the old easy life back to you without a struggle. Though men do a lot of talking about wanting a sweet little feminine homebody for a wife, they know full well when they have a good thing going.

As things now stand, a wife is expected to look like Brigitte Bardot, have a brain like Einstein's and a disposition like Pollyanna's.

And what is expected of a husband? That he be male. Having been born handsome and attractive to the opposite sex, and confident that these qualities remain his, he has no need for the artificial aids and care of his person to which his wife is enslaved.

It took considerable delicate hinting on the part of radio and TV announcers to convince men that it was not necessary to smell like a goat. Deodorants were finally adopted by men—mostly at the urging of their fellow-workers. This was a great step forward, but progress is slow. And I fear we're losing much more than we're gaining.

Think of the good old days. No self-respecting man would let his wife work—except at home. So any lucky woman who caught a man could look forward to being supported for the rest of her life in return for nothing but keeping house. She could eat, get fat and old and homely.

If she had a baby, she lay comfortably in bed for 10 days while someone else did the work, and was honored and respected just because she was a mother.

Father disciplined the children, did all the thinking for the family (he thought) and had to take the blame for the consequences. Considering all this, a small doubt has crept into my mind as to just who got emancipated.

Under our present regime of equal rights we are continually reminded that we must lovingly tend the delicate flower of manhood we have won in the marriage lottery.

Women are constantly besieged by solemn reminders, via the newspapers, magazines, TV and radio—and their husbands, who, unfortunately, can read, too—that they must watch solicitously over husband's diet, working habits, general health, and emotional well-being. All this so that she can preserve him, hale and hearty, for a long and healthy retirement.

He retires. I have heard several women hint, lately, that they are getting deathly sick of this same old song. After working several years to take the load off dear old daddy, dieting to keep slim, and working hard at staying young and beautiful, they took a long look at daddy and began to wonder if he was worth the trouble.

In politics, a man's success in attaining public office is now largely determined by how good his wife looks on TV. I know quite a few people who are having a tough time making up their minds whether to vote for Jackie Kennedy or Pat Nixon.

When a woman is running for office, does anyone care what her husband is like?

Wouldn't it be delightful to put an end to this insidious propaganda for all time? We can do it, by simply agreeing that Father Knows Best.

Let's return to the good old days when if you wanted something your husband couldn't afford, you cried for it instead of going out and working for it.

Let's go back to being weak, silly creatures, who can't lift anything heavier than a dinner plate—if there's a man around—and are too dumb to make any decision more important than what to cook for supper.

And who's going to worry about who looks out for these lordly beings? Nobody. Being free, male and so superior, let 'em look out for themselves.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We really do love Mrs. Kapell, but her original story was far too long for the space we had. So in order to present it to you in any form at all it had to be very furiously edited—by a man!)

CHANNEL LAKE—Girl Scouts of Troop 73 had a cook-out Oct. 22. The girls are working hard in preparation for a Court of Awards to be held in the near future.

The bake sale held for the benefit of Cub Scouts of Pack 86 on Saturday at the Ford Garage was a financial success.

Plans for a Christmas party at the December Pack meeting were discussed at the meeting of the Cub Scout Committee on Nov. 4. Parents are again reminded to work with their boys on the theme for the November meeting, "What the world will be like in 20 years." All Cub Scouts are to be in Indian costume for the Pack meeting on Nov. 18.

Apologies . . . In the account of the Halloween party of the Cub Scouts, we neglected to mention that David Lemke won the prize for the best pre-school boy's costume.

Mrs. Sven Dahlman and her mother, Mrs. Ottilie Rohde, spent several days in Provo, Utah, recently, visiting the Dahlmans' son, Jerry, who is attending Brigham Young University. Jerry, a former basketball star of Antioch High, made the freshman basketball squad at Brigham Young.

Betty Hameau returned Saturday from Denver, Colo., where she spent a week visiting her sister. She found the country beautiful and the climate ideal.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Siedschlag, Lake Avenue, celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary, which was Nov. 2, last Saturday. Many friends attended the party in their honor on Saturday night, and they received many lovely gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Siedschlag were married in the Peace Lutheran Church in Wilmot, Wis. They have one son, Glenn. Mrs. Siedschlag is the former Mildred Homan. The couple are managers of Wayside Inn on Lake Avenue.

The party also marked their first year in business.

There was good attendance at the spaghetti dinner sponsored by the PTA last Saturday.

The Happy Eight club was entertained by Mrs. Dolly Spiering on Nov. 3. Present were Ogot Hennig, Jane Frey, Julia Schmitt, Theresa Kranz, Marie Sima, Marge Weiss and Rose Hess. Luncheon was served and the afternoon spent playing cards.

Mrs. Hilda Bloom entertained the Sun-Side Subdivision Birthday Club on Nov. 2. Her birthday was Nov. 9. Members present were Hattie Schmidt, Marie Ryzko, Agda Frozeth, Wally Grutzmacher, Maja Hellberg, Gerda Swanson, Belle Foulis and Thelma Linder. Mrs. Irving Veltum was unable to attend because of illness. A delicious luncheon was served, including a birthday cake. Mrs. Bloom celebrated Saturday, also, by spending the day in Chicago visiting old friends.

School Band Parents Sponsor Skating Party

Antioch Grade School Band Parents will sponsor a skating party tonight at Twin Lakes rink, the first of two such events scheduled for this month. A second will be held on Nov. 23.

These events and other activities scheduled over the next few months were discussed by members of the organization at a meeting in the school cafeteria Nov. 1.

Mrs. Glen Pierce reported on early planning for a pancake supper and southern festival next May as part of the yearly fund raising program.

George Olisar reported that the State contest will be held in Peoria on April 1, 1961. Plans will be given to all participating bands this year. District Solo and Ensemble contests will be held at Lake Zurich on March 4 and District Band contest in North Chicago on March 25.

The band is purchasing a new bassoon and a new timpani head through the Band Parent group. Following the business portion of the meeting Mr. Olisar showed movies of the band and its activities taken over the past few years. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tegan.

A University of Illinois farm outlook specialist says the 1960 corn crop may sell for around $1.00 a bushel. That's about four cents less than the average received for the 1959 crop.

TB Testing Clinic in Kenosha County

WILMOT, Wis.—Wilmot Union high school will be the scene of the second in a series of tuberculosis testing clinics to be held during November in rural Kenosha county school districts when it is host Tuesday, November 8.

The first one at Wheatland Center school will be Monday, November 7, from 8:30 to 10 a.m. Wheatland, Randall, Cottage and St. Alphonsus schools will send children to Wheatland.

Over at Wilmot high Tuesday, grade 10 of the high school will go through the clinic starting at 8 a.m., then will come Trevor school at 8:30, Wilmot Graded at 8:45 and Holy Name at 9 a.m.

The tuberculosis testing program will move to Central high school in Paddock Lake Monday, November 14, with the hours scheduled from 8 to 11 a.m.

Children in grade 10 at Central high and boys and girls at Paddock Lake, Pikeville, Hazel Dell, Salem Center, Woodworth, South Bristol, Bristol State Graded, Riverview (of Silver Lake), St. Francis and Brighton Elementary will attend the clinic at Paddock Lake.

Other clinics are planned for the Hillcrest school on the Becker road north of highway 43, Tuesday, November 15, and at Prairie Lane school, highway 174 and Kenosha road, on Monday, November 22.

Children who are unable to attend the clinic for which they are scheduled may go to another clinic but they must bring a signed request card with them to the clinic, make arrangements for their own transportation and inform their principal(s) of their plans.

A "request card" has been sent home by the children to their parents for them to fill out.

About two days after the tests the county nurse will visit each school and check the arms for reactions. Children in grades 1, 4, 7 and 10 will be tested at these clinics.

There is no charge to anyone receiving the test, the office of the Kenosha county nurse said.

This will not be an inoculation or vaccination—only a skin test.

150° hot water is always on tap in a flameless electric kitchen

Twin heating units in a new Fast Electric Water Heater heat water as fast as it's used. There's no "saving up" for it to do the laundry or dishes. It's always there—150° hot—when and where you need it.

No pilot to light. Once installed, a new Fast Electric Water Heater is on its own. There's no pilot to light or go out, nothing to smell. Compact tank-type models fit in a closet. Modern counter-top models fit in your kitchen or laundry (offer extra work space, too). No flues are needed. No vents or long pipe runs. Electric Water Heaters last longer than any other kind; many have been in service for over 20 years.

When you build, buy an appliance or remodel your kitchen, keep in mind the unique advantages of a flameless electric water heater.

Ravenglen Farm Enters 7 In Livestock Show

The nationally-known Ravenglen Farm of Antioch will be represented by an entry of seven Holsteins in the 1960 International Live Stock Exposition, Nov. 25 to Dec. 3 in Chicago's International Amphitheater.

Among the Ravenglen entries is the top prize winning junior yearling Holstein bull of the 1960 show season, Ravenglen Triune Cavalier, winner of 8 firsts and 8 championships at the 8 shows where it has been exhibited, including the recent National Dairy Cattle Congress at Waterloo, Iowa. Most of the Ravenglen entries are high ranking price winners at both the 1960 Illinois and Wisconsin State Fairs.

A world's championship rodeo will be featured at the Exposition this year for the first time in conjunction with the 14 International Horse Shows that are scheduled daily throughout the events. The 1960 show is the 61st anniversary of the country's largest stock show.

Paperbook Store At Antioch High Is Successful

The paperbook store at Antioch Township high school is successfully in its second semester of operation offering about 250 titles ranging from Dostoevsky to Dennis the Menace, the school said this week. It was opened in February of 1960 as an experimental part of the school's English program and met with instant success by providing low cost supplementary reading to students of all departments of ATHS.

Other books are available on a special order from a catalog listing of more than 6000 paperbook titles currently in print.

Profits from the bookstore aid in the support of various projects and activities throughout the school.

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on.

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvaire 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

CORVAIR—Side doors open a full 49" wide. Loading height is a low 14" BUL!

'World of Books' Awaits Reader At Antioch Township Library

National Book Week, being celebrated next week, Nov. 13-19, is an ideal time to take advantage of the store of knowledge and entertainment offered through the library system. Here, Marian Harden, librarian, reviews the operation of the Antioch Township Library and its role in the community.

Books are keys to unlock the doors of the present and the past. The book collection of the Antioch Township Library has been accumulated through the years, and each book is carefully selected and designed to bring knowledge and pleasure to the reader.

The usefulness of libraries is determined by the book stock. The book stock is determined by the patrons. The books that a public library buys differ considerably from the books, for example, that a university library would buy. A public library needs popular works, informational material in the broad fields of science, history, and philosophy, and a wide range of books to appeal to the tastes of the children of the community. Specialized materials, in fact, almost any book, can be obtained for the library patron by the librarian by making use of interlibrary loan from the Illinois State Library at Springfield. Each year the Antioch Township Library borrows hundreds of books from this source to supplement our own materials.

Early records show that in 1930, the library circulated 1900 books for the year—1650 adult books and 250 children's books. The total book stock was 2,800 volumes. The library was open four hours a week. The library now owns 15,000 volumes and has files of magazines whose information may be tapped through the use of Reader's Guide. In the year ending January 31, 1960, 18,000 adult books were loaned. The children borrowed 24,000 and 1,600 magazines were loaned making a total circulation of almost 44,000.

The library was started as a public service back in 1921 by the Antioch Woman's Club. The committee members were Mrs. William Ziegler, Mrs. Oliver Matthews, Mrs. William Watson, Mrs. John Brogan, Miss Leonora Hughes, and at the request of the committee, Miss Alice Smith. Mrs. Brogan and Miss Smith still live in the community.

Books were donated by club members and interested townspeople, and for five years members of the committee served as volunteer librarians. Then Miss Mary Stanley assumed the chore of unpaid librarian.

Becomes Township Library

In 1929, the library became a village institution with Elmer Brook as president of the board and Mrs. Oliver Matthews as secretary. Other board members were Dr. R. D. Williams, who continued as a board member until his death in 1953, Robert King, Mrs. John Brogan, and Mrs. W. W. Warriner. The library was moved to the Grade School with Miss Stanley continuing as librarian.

Eight years later, the library's status was changed from a village to a township library. In October 1942, Miss Stanley resigned and Miss Betty Lu Williams, who had been assisting Miss Stanley, was appointed librarian. In 1945, Miss Williams left for school and Mrs. Marian Rigby was appointed librarian.

In April of 1945, the library received a bequest of $1,000 from the will of Mrs. C. K. Anderson and in September, 1949, the library received an additional $5,000 legacy from Mr. C. K. Anderson. When the estate of Mr. Anderson was settled, his daughter, Mrs. William Schroeder, gave to the village a substantial plot of land on Williams Street for a park, and to the library the building that was formerly the home of her grandfather, E. B. Williams.

Growth Keeps Pace

The businessmen of Antioch, when called upon by the library board, were generous of their time and money in the task of remodeling the house for the library's needs. Many of the townspeople helped in the task of moving the books and shelving to the library's new home. The cash bequests of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were used to pay for the remodeling of the building.

Since the library moved to its new home, which is adjacent to the Scout Home, the swimming pool, the Little League baseball diamond, and the Antioch Grade School, it has continued to grow at an accelerated pace.

The library has been the recipient of many gift books which are used as memorials and has been adding many new books to both the adult and juvenile sections of the library. Today, all departments are crowded to capacity. It has become necessary, therefore, to plan an expansion program to provide additional shelf space not only for normal growth but to anticipate the rapid growth in the size of the community and its surrounding area.

It is with this thought in mind that the Antioch Township Library Board has gratefully received a be-

THE WONDERFUL world of books opens new horizons to small fry as well as adults. Supervised reading is but one of the many services offered by the Antioch Township Library, being enjoyed here by six youngsters who will doubtless be among those celebrating National Book Week, Nov. 13-19.

Books Appealing to Every Age Among New Volumes in Library

Every year, the authors and publishers of children's books create thousands of exciting, colorful new books to add to the treasures of home, school, and public libraries. Children's Book Week is a good time to see what is available for your child at the Antioch Township Library.

Although pre-school children may not be able to read, books have a great fascination for them. By the time a child is two years old, he is ready to listen to short, gay stories and poems, especially if the book is colorfully illustrated. To add to the tales of Angus, the mischievous Scottie dog, and the old standby, "Peter Rabbit," we now have books about the fabulous, fantastic world of Dr. Seuss, the quiet beauty of Robert McCloskey's stories, and the realism of Louis Lenski, Margaret Wise Brown and Ruth Krauss.

In the field of poetry, what is better than the short rhymes of "Mother Goose"? Little ones will repeat the verse, savoring the words and adding to their fast-growing vocabulary. "The Rooster Crows," by Petershams, and "A Child's Garden of Verses," by R. L. Stevenson, are great favorites, too.

When children begin to read for themselves, their horizons expand rapidly. Many books are published to delight the beginner in reading. Recently received are "Timothy Robbins Climbs the Mountain," by Alvin Tresselt, "Hop-High the Goat" by Laura Bannon and "Square as a House," by Kuskin. Old favorites are the nature stories of Leone Adelson, the horse stories of C. W. Anderson, and the stories of children's adventures by Carolyn Haywood and Beverly Cleary.

Early reading lays the groundwork from the estate of the late Raymond Webb.

This bequest has been set aside as the nucleus of a special building fund with which a new and modern building may be erected. It is hoped that this fund may continue to increase by additional bequests and by contributions as memorials to individuals interested in the development of the library and the community.

Provisions have been made by the library board to give residents the opportunity to contribute to this building fund as a memorial for friends and relatives if they so desire. Cards to acknowledge such gifts are being prepared and records will be kept of these memorials.

The many services offered by your library are the results of the hard work and good planning of many people. The trustees of the library give many hours each month to achieve ever greater goals in library service. Many members of the community have given understanding support and constructive suggestions.

work for the discovery of a whole world of exciting reading for the middle-grader. The pioneer stories of Laura Ingalls Wilder and Carol Brink whet a desire to know more about our country's past. The child from third grade discovers the biographies of such national heroes as George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Francis Marion, and Daniel Boone. From there it is but a step to books about America's wars. Books about the Revolution, the Civil War and World War I and II are popular. Books about Indians, explorers, military men, and our armed forces are also widely read.

Great strides have been made in science material for the young reader. The nature writings of Zim, Huntington and Bronson are presented in short, factual sentences, printed in large type and amplified with pictures that serve to answer many questions. Books about prehistoric man and animals have great interest for the 9 and 10 year old.

Such books as "Experiments in Sky Watching" by Branley, "Understanding Electronics" by Lewellyn, "Man Made Moons" by Adler, and "Gateway to Space" have increased in popularity in the Sputnik era. Science fiction has many followers among both old and young. Recent additions are "Star Surgeon" by Nourse, "Storm Over Warlock" by Norton, and "Stadium Beyond the Stars" by Lessner.

Mystery, school stories, stories of children in other lands, fantasy, fairy tales and legends grip imaginations of middle-graders.

One of the fastest growing departments of the library is the section for young people which was started about a year ago. In the field of fiction, career stories, romantic and classical works are much in demand. The library has been gradually replacing old copies of such works as "A Tale of Two Cities," "Lorna Doone," and "Robinson Crusoe" with illustrated, attractively bound editions.

The books in the young people's department are selected from the shelves of both the juvenile and adult sections of the library. Selection is on the basis of interest and appeal to teen-age readers. Consequently much material in the fields of travel, science, adventure, and self-help is brought to the attention of the reader of junior high age. Boys in this age group are particularly interested in sport stories and biographies, and books about cars, aeronautics, and military exploits.

How long has it been since your family has visited the library to browse among the book-shelves and uncover a treasure or two that you have been intending to read? The library is open daily and every night excepting Wednesday and Saturday. Why not have a family night out at the library soon?

Social Security Urges Folks to 'Do It Yourself'

Here's one do-it-yourself project that costs nothing and won't end up in cuts and bruises.

The Social Security Administration wants each one that pays social security taxes to check up on your account—to make sure you are getting credit for every dollar that's coming to you.

With records of 120 million people to maintain, it's a pretty big job to catch an error that you or your employer might make in reporting wages and income.

You can help by checking every three years to see that your record is correct.

How? Easy. Simply by mailing a special postcard.

Just visit or phone your nearest social security office and ask for Form 7004 and mail it. In a couple of weeks you'll receive a notice that will verify the spelling of your name, your social security number and the wages credited to you for each of the past three years.

Do it tomorrow!

You'll be glad that you did.

The Waukegan office is at 1615 Washington and the phone number is ONtario 2-6595.
